

TIMES NEWSBOYS CRITICS OF FINE DISCRIMINATION AT BELASCO VAUDEVILLE

Two Hundred Youngsters
Guests in "Peanut"
Last Night.

HAPPY BUT SKEPTICAL

Vociferously Applaud Maggie
Cline's McCluskey and Daisy Dancers.

A most critical assemblage of small boys witnessed last night the all-star vaudeville performance at the Belasco Theatre. They were the Washington Times' newsboys, more than 200 in number, and they crowded the peanut gallery and taxed the vibrating powers of the walls of the house with their applause and shouts of approval.

Needless to say, the thing they liked the best was the sharpshooting of the Chevalier De Loria. And this was eminently appropriate, as they were there as the guests of the chevalier and the theater jointly. They gazed, wide-eyed and breathless, at the chevalier as he shot the clothes from his wife, and they leaned far forward in their seats when he hit an egg swinging in the air.

Maggie Cline got a good share of their applause with her "McCluskey" song, for the newsboys loved a scrap, and the sound of the general destruction that goes on behind the scenes while Miss Cline sings the song was as the sound of rippling waters to the man who is dying of thirst.

Skeptical About Chevalier.
There were moments when the general harmony of enjoyment was threatened seriously. One such time came while the chevalier was shooting out candles with incredible rapidity. One small boy was busily reading his cravat, and tying his program into a swell bowknot, when the one next to him said scornfully:

"Say, Willie; dere mus' be some trick or der in dat game. Some guy's blowin' out dem can'l'es."

"Aw-w-e-l!" rejoined Willie, "youse make me sick. Wot guy's blow' to stand bein' dem can'l'es to giv' 'em out when de bullets is apt to hit 'im in de eye?"

"His'n ain' de first stunt wot's been turned by a trick," rejoined the other. "It's a good un, but it may be a trick." At this juncture a third boy gave the skeptic a dig in the small of the back.

Comments of Newsies

Some guy's blowin' out dem can'l'es.
Dere ain' nuthin' nu in vaud'vil acrobats.

De dazy dancers is de goods all right-all right.
She's got er arm like er ham shuved up un'er her skin.

that effectually shut off all argument and cynicism.

The wide experience of the newsboy in things theatrical came into play when the troupe of German child-acrobats was performing.

"Say, Jimmie," said one wise boy, "dere ain't nothin' nu in dis vaud'vil acrobats. It's de same ole tumbles, de same ole liftin', and de same ole balancin' an' tumblin'. I gits tired uv it."

"But jes' look at de arms on dat bigges' girl!" retorted Jimmie. "Say, she cud lift a cow. Jee whiz! She got er arm like she had done shove a ham up under her skin."

"Keered for Like er Hoss."

"Aw-w-e-l," answered the other, "any guy kin git up her muscle like dat wid de proper trainin' and de right kind er food. Besides I guess dat bunch is keered for and 'tussed and fed up like a thoroughbred hoss. But wot I spec'ly object to is de oleanness of de stunts dey pull off. I tell youse, Jimmie, if some kid shud shove a ham up under her skin."

"Dat's de goods," said Willie. "Dat's de goods all right."

When Maggie Cline came out, she sang a song or two with a pretty tune and some harmless words.

"Rotten!" said the skeptic.

Tower of Babel at Close.

Then the famous Maggie began "Throw him down, McCluskey!" and the newsboy audience took the fastest car known to the Elysian fields. Every time the stage hands behind the scenes threw down the heavy timbers and jostled the creaking to signify that McCluskey had done his work well, the newsboys felt their spinal columns curl with delight.

And the famous Maggie got enough encores to last her a week of Sundays. When the show was over, the guests of the evening arose as one man and shouted their approbation. In doing this, they said, the newsboys had been hardened by crying "Times! Times!" all sorts of weather. Consequently, the loud and cat-calls and shrieks made the house sound like the tower of Babel for ten minutes.

Altogether, it was a great night along newsboy row.

VIKINGS OCCUPY NEW HEADQUARTERS

Swedish Society's Growth
Causes Abandonment of Old Home.

SELECT DAVIDSON'S HALL
Organization's Monthly Entertainments
Hereafter to Be More of a Feature.

The Swedish Society Vikings will hold their regular business meeting at Davidson's hall, 719 Sixth street northwest, at 8 o'clock Friday evening, October 5, when business of importance to the society will come up for consideration. By a unanimous vote of the society at its last meeting it was decided to abandon its present home at Oppenheimer's hall, where the organization has been meeting since its inception over a year ago. On account of its rapid growth the Vikings will seek larger and more comfortable quarters in which they can give their monthly entertainments. Davidson's hall was decided upon as being the most suitable. The Vikings meet twice every month, the first meeting being a business session. The second is devoted entirely to social functions. The chairman of the program committee is Vice President O. B. Westberg.

On June 24 last the Vikings celebrated the first anniversary of the Swedish society by an excursion to Anderson's Grove, D. C., which is owned by an old gentleman of Swedish birth, now seventy-one years old, an old resident of the District. The place is named after Mr. Anderson, who is also an honorary member of the Vikings.

The aims and purposes of the society are purely social, its object being to bring the Swedes of the District closer together for mutual benefit and welfare, and for the cultivation of Swedish song and music, literature and language. Any native person above the age of eighteen of good reputation and character, born in Sweden, or in America of Swedish parents, is eligible to become a member of the Vikings. It is the hope of the society that it will, in the near future, grow strong enough to become a beneficial organization, so that every member shall be entitled to a certain amount of sick and death benefit. The Vikings count among their members several veterans of the Spanish-American war. The president of the society, Harry Thompson, of 552 Bates street northwest, and the recording secretary, P. Sylven, of 616 Fifth street northwest, are glad to give information concerning the society to any one wishing to affiliate with it.

CONCEDES PRINTERS EIGHT-HOUR DAY

Globe Company's Decision
Second Victory for Union
Within a Week.

Within a week the printers have won two victories. This time it is the Globe Printing Company, at Fourteenth and E streets northwest. Last night the Globe Company yielded to the demands of the Columbian Typographical Union and granted the eight-hour day. This morning six union printers went to work at the Globe office and more will be put to work in a few days, as this is the busy season.

Many offices nine months ago today refused to grant the eight-hour day demanded by the Typographical Union, and the Globe was one of them. But, with a strong persistency for the cause, the union has gradually won the offices over until now, as T. C. Parsons, president of Columbian Typographical Union said today, only five or six of the printing plants are holding out against it.

"And," said he, "we are confident that we will yet win them all over to the eight-hour day."

WIFE, HELPING BUILDER,
FALLS WITH SCAFFOLD

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 4.—Mrs. Adolph Lusch, thirty-five years old, was fatally injured by the falling of a scaffold on which she was working.

Mrs. Lusch's husband is a contractor and has been unable to obtain a full complement of hands because of a labor famine, so she volunteered to help him weatherboard a house.

She had worked about two hours when the scaffold crashed to the ground. Her head was crushed and her spine injured.

PLUMBERS' DATA ALMOST FINISHED

Arguments Soon to Be Made
Before Arbitration Board.

The journeymen plumbers have about completed their data to present to the board of arbitration, which is to decide the questions at issue between the journeymen and the masters.

As soon as the arbitration board is notified that both parties are ready to proceed with their arguments there will be a meeting and then will be determined the division of time. The master plumbers, it was said today, are at work on their case, and expect to be ready to present their evidence within the next few days.

Nearly all the plumbers who were locked out last March are now at work, but some sixty members of Local No. 5 left Washington last spring and are working in other cities. They will come back when the matter is settled, provided, of course, there is work for them.

COMPANIONS FREE MAN
HANDCUFFED TO TREE

MAHANOCY CITY, Pa., Oct. 3.—Handcuffed to an apple tree by two deputy State police wardens for shooting robins in violation of the game law, Peter Gerung was freed by two companions who outwitted the wardens in a two-mile chase through the woods at Girard Manor, returned with an axe, with which they felled the tree and had the manacles removed from Gerung at a country smith's.

UNIVERSITY WORK OUTLINED BY DEANS

Interesting Program at Geo.
Washington's Wednesday Assembly.

The second of the Wednesday assemblies was held yesterday afternoon in University hall, George Washington University. The meeting was opened as usual by the singing of a hymn followed by a prayer by Dr. Day, professor of Semitic languages. The deans of the different departments then made their reports. Dean George Washington College of Engineering, announced the engagement of two new professors in scientific branches. Mr. Barney, one of the new men, and a graduate of Bowdoin, will have charge of the evening section in physics. Mr. McGuire, a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who has had considerable experience in practical electrical work, will have charge of the classes in alternating currents.

Dean Vance, of the law school, announced that Justice Harlan had been delayed in returning to the city, and that his course of lectures in constitutional law, which are open to the public, will consequently not begin until October 15.

E. P. Gates, a member of the Junior class, college, outlined the policy of the university publication, "The Hatcher." Faculty Scouting, a student in the law school, rendered a solo, after which President Needham addressed the students. He announced the first fall convocation of the university, which will be held in the Belasco Theatre on October 17. His address was on "Celestial Bookkeeping."

STENOGRAPHERS ELECT BOARD OF OFFICERS

Fifth Semi-Annual Meeting Held and Reports of Interest
Read.

The fifth semi-annual election of the officers of the Stenographers, Typewriters, Bookkeepers and Assistants' Association, of Washington, was held Tuesday evening at the Spanish War Veterans' Hall, 719 Sixth street northwest, and the following were elected:

Joseph T. Sherler, president; Miss E. A. Summers, first vice president; Miss Josephine T. Kelly, second vice president; J. Walter Bernhard, financial secretary; Frank F. Hartwell, recording secretary; Louis A. Sterne, treasurer; Arthur Hunt, guardian; Martin Joynt, guide.

The various reports of officers and standing committees showed very material increases in the enrollment of members and funds in the treasury.

The stenographers' Association enters its third year of existence with good prospects of enlarging its field of beneficial work in rendering material assistance to its members, securing employment, increasing wages, and reducing the number of hours of daily employment for its entire membership.

SISTER MARY CAMILLA DIES IN HOSPITAL

Beloved Nun at Georgetown University
Institution Ill Only Six Weeks.

Sister Mary Camilla McCullum, of the hospital staff of Georgetown University Hospital, died yesterday morning, after an illness of six weeks. Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, in Holy Trinity Church, and burial will be made in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

Although she had not been in robust health for some time, it was not until about six weeks ago that Sister Mary Camilla became ill. Every attention was given her in the institution where she had worked so long to relieve the sufferings of others, but all efforts to save her failed.

Sister Mary Camilla was a native of Wilmington and entered the religious order about eleven years ago. She came to Washington eight years ago and had worked faithfully as a member of the hospital staff. She was about forty-four years of age when she became ill. Her mother, came to Washington several days ago, when it became known that Sister Mary Camilla could not live.

Mill ends of silks to go for pennies

A repetition of the sensational sale of several weeks ago

Silks for every purpose. Making of waists and for trimmings, fancy work, scarfs, lining of coats, muffs, etc., to be had from this collection. The prices are so out of proportion with the actual worth of the silks and so varied from widths, lengths, and character of silks that no comparative values can be given.

At 5c, 10c, 15c per piece	At 25c, 35c, 45c yard
---------------------------	-----------------------

Large collection of silks embracing almost every kind in the sale and in small pieces, at one-half yards long, all of which are especially suited to fancy work purposes.

24 and 28-inch Silks and Satins, including a good many blacks. Lengths run from 1 to 3 yards. Lots of colored satins, Taffeta silks and fancy silks, suitable for linings or fancy work.

15c and 25c yard	36-in. silks at 25c, 35c, and 49c a yard	Foreign silks at 50c yard
